THE INTERNATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOL
in Innsbruck, Austria
July 1 - August 11, 2017
The University of New Orleans is proud to welcome you to the 42nd session of The Innsbruck International Summer School. International study programs offer extraordinary educational opportunities as well as an introduction to the unique and enriching attributes of foreign cultures. As you participate in all of the many activities afforded by your host country, please remember that you are also serving as a cultural ambassador for your university and the United States. I hope that this summer will expand your worldview and cultivate a love for international travel. This program is a source of pride for the University of New Orleans, and I am certain that its benefits will be long-lasting. Welcome and enjoy your summer abroad!

Dr. John W. Nicklow, President, The University of New Orleans

Welcome to UNO-Innsbruck! The continued success of the UNO-Innsbruck International Summer School represents a significant milestone and a proud achievement at the University of New Orleans. Over more than four decades, thousands of students, faculty and staff have become a part of the extended UNO-Innsbruck family. Perhaps your friends or a professor recommended it to you or, perhaps, your siblings have been and now it is your turn. Or, perhaps, you are one of the many legacy students who will choose UNO-Innsbruck because your mother or father attended this program in the early years. UNO-Innsbruck is widely known locally and abroad and has become an institution in its own right. I invite you to come with us and make your mark in Innsbruck!

New students seeking college credits must meet the general admissions requirements of The University of New Orleans. Guest students from other institutions and continuing University of New Orleans students must meet the grade point requirements above. Priority will be given to students enrolled in a university program. After review of all application materials, students will be notified in writing of acceptance into The International Summer School.

“I loved the classes, lectures, field trips and activities. Everything was great!”
Andrea Mackie
The University of New Orleans

HOW TO APPLY
Apply online: http://inst.uno.edu/austria/
In addition to the online application, you must complete and submit all application materials, including a transcript, before your application can be reviewed for acceptance into the program. Course selection takes place at the time of application but cannot be guaranteed until the student is accepted.

“Going on the UNO-Innsbruck program was the best decision I have made in college!”
Nicole Rueb
Southern Methodist University

COURSE SCHEDULING
• Course scheduling will be arranged based on a student’s eligibility first, and preference second. In the event of time conflicts or if class quotas of 15 per class have been reached, students will be assigned to course(s) on their alternate list.
• The International Summer School requires all students to complete at least 6 hours (2 courses) and allows enrollment in 9 hours (3 courses).

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA
In 1992 UGA and UNO signed a Consortium Agreement to facilitate UGA student and faculty participation in the UNO-Innsbruck International Summer School. Since then, more than 2000 students and teachers have benefited from this vibrant collaboration between the two universities.

ELIGIBILITY & ADMISSION GUIDELINES for UGA STUDENTS
University of Georgia students participating in The International Summer School must complete the UGA Study Abroad Credit Approval Form for UNO Innsbruck and submit it to the UGA Office of International Education (OIE) no later than 3 weeks prior to departure.

UGA students earn non-resident, transfer credit issued by The University of New Orleans, and grades earned on this program are calculated into the students’ overall GPA at UGA. Students should work with their Academic Advisor to complete and sign the Credit Approval Form and determine how the UNO Innsbruck classes will transfer and apply to specific UGA degree requirements or electives. UGA equivalents for courses offered in The International Summer School are listed in the UGA Credit Approval Form, which is available online. Some courses have precise UGA transfer equivalents, while others may have a more general transfer designation such as HIST 3T, which indicates only the department and course level (in this case, a 3000 level History course). If needed, students may work directly with an academic advisor to determine a more precise course transfer equivalent. Students are advised to begin the Credit Approval Form process as soon as the decision to participate in the UNO Innsbruck program is made.

UGA students should contact the UGA Office of International Education to schedule an advising appointment with a Study Abroad Advisor if they have any questions about studying abroad, the credit transfer process, Credit Approval Form, scholarships, or financial aid.

UGA Office of International Education:

goabroad.uga.edu

Small class sizes are characteristic of the Innsbruck Summer School and help students bond with each other and their professors. Class field trips, f. ex. to Salzburg, also contribute to this positive learning environment.

UGA students will be responsible for paying a $250 study abroad fee in addition to the program fee. The Credit Approval Form needs to be on file in the OIE in order to receive federal, state or institutional financial aid, including HOPE, Zell Miller, and other scholarships for studying abroad. UGA students are also eligible for the Ambassador Awards and can get more information about these in the OIE. UGA financial aid, such as the HOPE scholarship, is based on the number of credits students earn during the program and is calculated at the UGA tuition rate. Students can obtain a Credit Approval Form from the UGA Office of International Education or by accessing the UNO Innsbruck page on the GoAbroad Portal at goabroad.uga.edu.

“UNO-Innsbruck was an amazing experience! It was the best summer of my life and I will never forget it!”

The program offers many extracurricular afternoon activities, and Tobogganing is always a favorite!

“I appreciate everything the Innsbruck program offered me! I felt very prepared both before and during the program and appreciated how open and helpful the staff was!”
Brianna Spinuzzi
University of Georgia

Our student ambassadors represent the program and their universities at special events, such as this community outreach project with a local refugee shelter, gaining meaningful leadership experience.

UNIVERSITY OF INNSBRUCK
The Leopold-Franzens University of Innsbruck, founded in 1669 by Emperor Leopold I, is recognized today as a major European institution of higher learning and research. A long-standing formal Friendship Agreement with the University of Innsbruck affords UNO special access to the resources and faculty of this great European university. In turn, University of Innsbruck students participate in the UNO-Innsbruck Summer School, enriching class discussions with their central European perspectives. This peer-to-peer learning and intercultural exchange adds to the success of our program and significantly enhances the study experience for all students.

Universe of Innsbruck students and US students take classes together and often make lasting friendships.

“I loved the classes in Innsbruck so much and am thankful to have been able to take those credits abroad, together with Austrian students.”
Alexis Fowler
Texas Christian University

All courses listed will carry three credit hours, unless otherwise indicated. The academic regulations at The University of New Orleans will apply in Innsbruck as well. Freshmen and sophomores are eligible to enroll in courses numbered 1000 and 2000, and upperclassmen (over 59 hours of credit) may take any of these courses, as well as those numbered 3000 and 4000. 4000 level classes may have a 5000 level section added for graduate students upon request.

NOTE: Guest students are responsible for securing approval from their home institutions for the courses they wish to take.

“For several years now, the UNO-Innsbruck
Summer School has been enrolling a number of second generation participants, such as Megan Lato, whose mother
Jo Lato attended the program in 1986.

This partnership quickly became one of the most active transatlantic university relationships, including student programs, publications, conferences, and centers. In 1995, the mayors of the two cities signed a Sister City Agreement, and in the same year a vibrant art exchange was started.

WEEEKEND TRAVEL

Rome, Italy is a popular and fun weekend destination for many UNO-Innsbruck students. Classes are scheduled from Monday to Thursday, except for the first week when classes are also held on Friday. Most of these long weekends are free for students’ individual travel and offer a wonderful opportunity to explore Europe.

“I loved that just about every major European city is within reasonably cheap traveling distance.”
Brittany George
The University of New Orleans

HOUSING

The International Summer School includes housing at a dormitory in Innsbruck. The facility offers furnished rooms with a private bathroom and shower. Internet access is available in all rooms.

“Living in Innsbruck for the summer was incredible! It’s crazy beautiful and now it feels like my home away from home.”
Taylor Barron
The University of Alabama

CLASS FIELD TRIPS

Most students in the International Summer School will enjoy the opportunity to take class field trips within Innsbruck, as well as other parts of Austria and across international borders to Italy and Germany. These trips are integral to the courses and are included in the program cost.

We are convinced that these field trips provide some of the real highlights and exceptional experiences of the International Summer School. For details about required field trips, students should consult the program website under Academics and Class Field Trips, or call the International Summer School office. Students are advised not to miss any required field trip(s) as this will result in academic/participation penalties.

“I thought there was a great balance between classes and free time. I liked how some field trips were mandatory while others were optional, and how the afternoons were free for adventure and exploration.”
Anna Skelton
Embry-Riddle Aeronautical University

Students pay their respect to victims of the Holocaust on a class field trip to the Dachau Concentration Camp Memorial Site outside of Munich, Germany.

“My greatest learning experience was the field trip to Dachau. Not only was it very eye-opening, it also gave me a context for what I learned in class.”
Bennett Souter
University of Georgia

Some business classes visit the BMW plant in Munich.

“UNO-Innsbruck was a lot of fun. I loved learning about the local culture and experiencing new places.”

DISABILITY ACCOMMODATIONS
The University of New Orleans is committed to providing an environment where all students have the opportunity to equally participate in the academic experience, including students with disabilities. Students with disabilities have rights as determined by federal and state laws which require institutions to provide reasonable accommodations for the student’s disability in order to afford an equal opportunity to participate in UNO’s programs, courses, and activities. Persons requiring disability-related accommodations must notify the program administration at the earliest possible date so that their needs may be properly assessed and reasonably accommodated.

The Rössl dormitory is an easy walk to and from the classroom building across the bridge.
