Division of International Education

THE INTERNATIONAL SUMMER SCHOOL
in Innsbruck, Austria
June 30 - August 10, 2018
Welcome to The University of New Orleans - Innsbruck International Summer School.

The University of New Orleans is proud to welcome you to the 43rd session of The Innsbruck International Summer School. International study programs offer extraordinary educational opportunities as well as an introduction to the unique and enriching attributes of foreign cultures. As you participate in all of the many activities afforded by your host country, please remember that you are also serving as a cultural ambassador for your university and the United States. I hope that this summer will expand your worldview and cultivate a love for international travel. This program is a source of pride for the University of New Orleans, and I am certain that its benefits will be long-lasting. Welcome and enjoy your summer abroad!

W.J. Lane, Ph.D., Academic Director, The UNO - Innsbruck International Summer School 2018

Welcome to UNO-Innsbruck! The continued success of the UNO-Innsbruck International Summer School represents a significant milestone and a proud achievement at the University of New Orleans. Over more than four decades, thousands of students, faculty and staff have become a part of the extended UNO-Innsbruck family. Perhaps your friends or a professor recommended it to you or, perhaps, your siblings have been and now it is your turn. Or, perhaps, you are one of the many legacy students who will choose UNO-Innsbruck because your mother or father attended this program in the early years. UNO-Innsbruck is widely known locally and abroad and has become an institution in its own right. I invite you to come with us and become part of the tradition!

Over 25 Years of Partnership with UGA

The University of Georgia entered into a formal affiliation with The International Summer School in 1992. Well over 2000 Georgia students and faculty have participated in this program. Credits earned transfer as appropriate credit at UGA, and financial assistance is available. For more information contact the Office of International Education, 1324 South Lumpkin Street, University of Georgia, Athens, GA 30602 | (706) 542-2900 | goabroad.uga.edu
Students may also consult UGA faculty who participate in the program.

ELIGIBILITY & ADMISSION GUIDELINES for ALL STUDENTS

Undergraduates with a 2.5 cumulative GPA and graduate students with a 3.0 cumulative GPA are eligible to apply to the UNO-Innsbruck International Summer School. Non-UNO students must submit an official transcript and other application materials to the program administration. New students seeking college credit must meet the general admission requirements of the University of New Orleans. Students must be in good standing with their home institution to be considered for admission to the program. Students in disciplinary and/or academic probation will not be accepted to the UNO-Innsbruck International Summer School. After review of all application materials, students will be notified in writing of their admission status with the UNO-Innsbruck International Summer School.

HOW TO APPLY

Apply online: www.inst.uno.edu/austria

In addition to the online application, you must complete and submit all application materials, including a transcript, before your application can be reviewed for acceptance into the program. Course selection takes place at the time of application but cannot be guaranteed until the student is accepted.

“The balance between class time, field trips, activities, and free time was excellent. Every day was exciting.”

Jordan Wingrove
The University of New Orleans

COURSE SCHEDULING

- Course scheduling will be arranged based on a student’s eligibility first, and preference second. In the event of time conflicts or if class quotas of 15 per class have been reached, students will be assigned to course(s) on their alternate list.
- The International Summer School requires all students to complete at least 6 hours (2 courses) and allows enrollment in 9 hours (3 courses).
- All instructors are encouraged to incorporate the local setting into the course content. “Learning in the Field” is also done on the Glacier Field Trip, where students in the Earth & Environmental Sciences classes search for garnets in the rocks.

UNIVERSITY OF GEORGIA

In 1992 UGA and UNO signed a Consortium Agreement to facilitate UGA student and faculty participation in the UNO-Innsbruck International Summer School. Since then, more than 2000 students and teachers have benefitted from this vibrant collaboration between the two universities.

ELIGIBILITY & ADMISSION GUIDELINES for UGA STUDENTS

University of Georgia students participating in the International Summer School must complete the UGA Study Abroad Credit Approval Form for UNO Innsbruck and submit it to the UGA Office of International Education (OIE) no later than 3 weeks prior to departure.

UGA students earn non-resident, transfer credit issued by the University of New Orleans, and grades earned on this program are calculated into the students’ overall GPA at UGA. Students should work with their Academic Advisor to complete and sign the Credit Approval Form and determine how the UNO-Innsbruck classes will apply to their specific UGA degree requirements or electives. UGA equivalents for courses offered in the International Summer School are listed in the UGA Credit Approval Form, which is available online.

Some courses have precise UGA transfer equivalents, while others may have a more general transfer designation such as HIST 3T, which indicates only the department and course level (in this case, a 3000 level History course). If needed, students may work directly with an academic advisor to determine a more precise course transfer equivalent. Students are advised to begin the Credit Approval Form process as soon as the decision to participate in the UNO Innsbruck program is made.

UGA students should contact the UGA Office of International Education to schedule an advising appointment with a Study Abroad Advisor if they have any questions about studying abroad, the credit transfer process, Credit Approval Form, scholarships, or financial aid.

UGA Office of International Education:

Small class sizes are characteristic of the Innsbruck Summer School and help students bond with each other and their professors. Class field trips also contribute to this positive learning environment.

UGA students will be responsible for paying a $250 transfer credit fee in addition to the program fee. The Credit Approval Form needs to be on file in the OIE in order to receive federal, state or institutional financial aid, including HOPE, Zell Miller, and other scholarships for studying abroad. UGA students are also eligible for the Global Ambassador Awards and can get more information about these in the OIE. UGA financial aid, such as the HOPE scholarship, is based on the number of credits students earn during the program and is calculated at the UGA tuition rate. Students can obtain a Credit Approval Form from the UGA Office of International Education or by accessing the UNO Innsbruck page on the GoAbroad Portal at goabroad.uga.edu.

“Since studying abroad, I am a lot more open-minded when I meet new people and I’m more excited to hear their stories. I still want to continue with environmental work and seeing how environmentally conscious Austria is has inspired me even more.”

Alyson Wright
University of Georgia

“...ambassador, and the Global Ambassador Award really helped out a lot. Without it, I would not have been able to experience all of the great things that I did.”

Matthew Taylor
University of Georgia

The program offers many extracurricular afternoon activities, and Tobogganing is always a favorite!

“...ambassador, and the Global Ambassador Award really helped out a lot. Without it, I would not have been able to experience all of the great things that I did.”

Matthew Taylor
University of Georgia

Our student ambassadors represent the program and their universities at special events, such as this community outreach project with a local refugee shelter, gaining meaningful leadership experience.
CURRICULUM
In keeping with the purpose of the International Summer School, courses are enhanced by the setting in Austria and Europe. A concerted effort is made in all courses to reinforce the classroom instruction with the rich cultural surroundings. While all courses are taught in English, students are encouraged to take a German language course either before or during the summer for a better appreciation of the European experience.

EXAMS, TRANSCRIPTS & CERTIFICATES
• Mid-term and final examinations will be given in all courses. Class attendance is required of every student.
• An official transcript from the University of New Orleans will be sent to each student’s home institution at no extra cost.
• A special certificate will be awarded to students who complete nine hours with academic distinction (at least two A’s and one B).
• All students will also receive a certificate of attendance.

“I liked both of my classes. My teachers were enthusiastic and genuinely wanted us to learn.”
Sara Brown
The University of Mississippi

“All courses listed will carry three credit hours, unless otherwise indicated. The academic regulations at the University of New Orleans will apply in Innsbruck as well. Freshmen and sophomores are eligible to enroll in courses numbered 1000 and 2000, and upperclassmen (over 59 hours of credit) may take any of these courses, as well as those numbered 3000 and 4000. 4000 level classes may have a 5000 level section added for graduate students upon request.

NOTE: Guest students are responsible for securing approval from their home institution for the courses they wish to take.

UNIVERSITY OF INNSBRUCK
The Leopold-Franzens University of Innsbruck, founded in 1669 by Emperor Leopold I, is recognized today as a major European institution of higher learning and research. A long-standing formal Friendship Agreement with the University of Innsbruck affords UNO special access to the resources and faculty of this great European university. In turn, University of Innsbruck students participate in the UNO-Innsbruck Summer School, enriching class discussions with their central European perspectives. This peer-to-peer learning and intercultural exchange adds to the success of our program and significantly enhances the study experience for all students.

Students take a class field trip to Bolzano, Italy to visit “Otti,” the 5,000 year old “Ice Man” discovered in the Alps not far from Innsbruck in 1991.

“I thoroughly enjoyed my classes. Both the Dachau and Berchtesgaden field trips meant the most to me.”
Lee Tonsmeire
The University of Alabama

Amanda McGilvray
UNO-Innsbruck Alumna

FINANCIAL ASSISTANCE
The University of New Orleans and the UNO-Innsbruck Summer School believe that this educational experience should be made available to as many students as possible. To this end, several awards are available to UNO and UGA students who exhibit high academic achievement, demonstrate financial need, and whose academic plans will benefit most from this experience. Recipients are designated as Global Ambassadors and expected to assist during and after the program. For further information please contact the UNO-Innsbruck office.

All non-UNO students are encouraged to contact their home institution about portable financial assistance, such as Pell Grants, Stafford Loans, PLUS loans, HOPE, PACT, etc. A consortium agreement can be initiated by the student’s home university, and this assistance may travel with the student and be applied to UNO-Innsbruck tuition and fees.
THE UNIVERSITY of NEW ORLEANS

Over 10,000 Students!

The UNO-Innsbruck International Summer School celebrates its 43rd birthday this year!

In 1976, the University of New Orleans initiated its flagship study abroad program in Innsbruck. Its founder, Dr. Gordon H. “Nick” Mueller, is often referred to as a visionary. He is known as a man who “thinks big,” so even for the first UNO-Innsbruck program he chartered a Pan Am flight to take 166 students to Innsbruck, and launched what was to become one of the largest study abroad programs of its kind in the United States.

The first UNO-Innsbruckers, UNO’s first chancellor H. L. Hitt (right) and program founder G. H. “Nick” Mueller (2nd from right), are about to board their chartered plane.

Successes and challenges have shaped the International Summer School over the past four decades, during which it has convened yearly without interruption. The program has adjusted to changing times and student needs, but it has managed to maintain its identity and academic integrity.

“For weekend travel through Europe and travel before and/or after the program, rail is the most popular mode of transportation. We recommend a Eurailpass, which must be purchased in the U.S. before departure. Students may purchase a Eurailpass from ITS Tours or independently. To learn more about Eurailpasses, visit the program website. As Eurailpasses are based on the exchange rate between USD and Euros, the railpass price is not fixed until it is actually purchased.

“Studying abroad makes me want to travel more! I feel way more prepared and comfortable with it now.”
Keshante Apav
The University of New Orleans

GROUP FLIGHT
ITS Tours has arranged group flights on Delta Airlines. The flights will depart from Atlanta or New Orleans on June 29, 2018, arriving in Munich, Germany on June 30, and return on August 10. Group seats are limited, and they are sold on a first-come, first-served basis. The cost for round-trip airfare from Atlanta to Munich is $1,895.00, and from New Orleans to Munich is $1,995.00, if full payment is received by Tuesday, March 27, 2018. For full details on the group flight options and on how to make a flight reservation, please contact ITS Tours or check our program website at www.inst.uno.edu/austria.

This partnership quickly became one of the most active transatlantic university relationships, including student programs, publications, conferences, and centers. In 1995, the mayors of the two cities signed a Sister City Agreement, and in the same year a vibrant art exchange was started. So many lives and careers have been touched by The International Summer School in Innsbruck, Austria, and this summer it is your turn! Join the 43rd class of UNO-Innsbruckers and be prepared to have your summer of a lifetime.

“The UNO-Innsbruck International Summer School enrolled its 10,000th student in 2017. And counting...

“The program has transformed the lives of thousands of individuals, broadening their understanding of the past and sending them in new directions for the future!”
Dr. Gordon H. “Nick” Mueller
Founder, UNO-Innsbruck
President & CEO Emeritus,
The National World War II Museum

For the past several years, we have seen an increase in second generation participants, such as Megan Lato, whose mother Jo Lato attended the program in 1986.

UNO and the University of Innsbruck receive the Euro-Atlantic Culture Award for International Education

This prestigious prize was awarded to the University of New Orleans and the University of Innsbruck for “their remarkable contribution to the scientific and cultural exchange between Europe and the USA.” The European Foundation for Culture “Pro Europa” supports cooperation in the areas of art and science between the European Union and the United States. The International Summer School is the cornerstone of the long-standing friendship between UNO and the University of Innsbruck.
WEEKEND TRAVEL

Venice, Italy is a popular and fun weekend destination for many UNO-Innsbruck students. Classes are scheduled from Monday to Thursday, except for the first week when classes are also held on Friday. Most of these long weekends are free for students’ individual travel and offer a wonderful opportunity to explore Europe.

“I love how the program allows you to craft the experience you want. There was plenty of opportunity to join in on afternoon activities, hang out at cafes, or just explore.”
Bayley Wiggins
University of Georgia

HOUSING

The Innsbruck International Summer School includes housing at a dormitory in the center of Innsbruck. The facility offers furnished rooms with a private bathroom and shower. Internet access is available in all rooms. Most rooms are doubles, but single rooms are available for a fee of $550.00 (see web site for details). A full breakfast buffet is served in the dorm on class days.

“The more I was in Innsbruck, the more I fell in love with it. Everything about Innsbruck is beautiful - from the city itself to the mountains to the people.”
Amanda Chatelain
The University of New Orleans

CLASS FIELD TRIPS

Most students in the International Summer School will enjoy the opportunity to take class field trips within Innsbruck, as well as other parts of Austria and across international borders to Italy and Germany. These trips are integral to the courses and are included in the program cost.

These field trips provide some of the outstanding highlights and exceptional experiences of the International Summer School. For details about required field trips, students should consult the program website under Academics and Class Field Trips, or call the International Summer School office. Students are advised not to miss any required field trip(s) as this will result in academic/participation penalties.

“Dachau was an incredible experience. It is something you hear about your whole life but can’t fully understand until you stand where they stood.”
Gabe Chatelain
Louisiana State University

Students pay their respect to victims of the Holocaust on a class field trip to the Dachau Concentration Camp Memorial Site outside of Munich, Germany.

SOCIAL ENGAGEMENT

Apply to participate in this new and exciting component of the UNO-Innsbruck Summer School. Selected students enrich their experience abroad by participating in activities such as:

- Community service/outreach opportunities
- Engagement with the refugee community in Innsbruck
- Enrichment lectures on topics of diversity, social engagement, environmental issues, social justice, etc.
- Immersion opportunities with locals, such as “buddy program” and host families

Service credit may be available.

“My study abroad experience really inspired me by seeing the work done on the refugee crisis - specifically the women’s shelter. I would love to get involved once I am done with school.”
Kaleigh Palmisano
The University of New Orleans

MEDICAL INSURANCE

All students are covered by a comprehensive study abroad medical insurance plan, included in the program cost. This policy provides for accident, medical expenses, emergency medical and evacuation, repatriation of remains, and family assistance coverage. Extended coverage at additional cost is available. A brochure fully detailing the insurance plan will be provided to each student. The policy does not cover trip cancellation or baggage loss. Such a policy is available for purchase from ITS Tours or other providers and is strongly recommended. (See program website for details.)

DISABILITY ACCOMMODATIONS

The University of New Orleans is committed to providing an environment where all students have the opportunity to equally participate in the academic experience, including students with disabilities. Students with disabilities have rights as determined by federal and state laws which require institutions to provide reasonable accommodations for the student’s disability in order to afford an equal opportunity to participate in UNO’s programs, courses, and activities. Persons requiring disability-related accommodations must notify the program administration at the earliest possible date so that their needs may be properly assessed and reasonably accommodated.

PASSPORT & VISAS

A valid passport is required for everyone traveling to Europe. Note that your passport must be valid for at least six months beyond your period of stay or you may be denied entry into Germany and other European countries. For passport fees, application instructions and forms, see the U.S. Department of State site: travel.state.gov/passport

It is strongly suggested that you apply for your passport as soon as possible, and no later than April. All international students requiring visas for travel in European countries must secure those visas before arrival in Europe. The Division of International Education at UNO assumes no responsibility for visas.

“My greatest learning experience was my ability to overcome the bumps in the road while being in a foreign country. I have more faith in myself now. That was the most important thing I took away from the UNO-Innsbruck program.”
Alison Marie
The University of New Orleans
