2014 International Photo Contest

The UNO Division of International Education (DoIE) announces the eighth annual International Photo Contest. This will be a juried exhibition of photography taking place during International Education Week (IEW), November 17-21, 2014. The exhibition will be displayed in UNO’s University Center Lobby during IEW, and winners will be announced at the awards ceremony.

The theme of the photo competition is international education. All current UNO students are invited to submit up to three photographs documenting a significant personal experience during a time studying, living or working abroad. This includes American expatriate experiences as well as those of international students studying at UNO. (Please note that photos of international students at UNO should depict an experience or impression of the US, not the home country). Photos must have been taken within the past two years and cannot have been submitted to previous international photo contests at UNO.

Photographers may submit up to three low-resolution, web-quality scans or digital images (preferably in jpeg format) of works in any photographic media. Originals may not be larger than 8 x 10. Images may be submitted on CD-ROM or e-mailed to isp@uno.edu. All images and discs must be appropriately labeled. Images must correspond to titles of works listed on the entry form.

Submissions must be accompanied by a completed online entry form, which is available at http://inst.uno.edu/photocontest. Photo submissions will be accepted as digital images in jpeg format via email (isp@uno.edu), or in person at the following location:

Division of International Education
Bicentennial Education Building, ED 120
Tel. (504) 280-7317
isp@uno.edu

The deadline for online submissions is 12:00 am on November 2, 2014. In-person submissions must be received at ED 120 by 3:00 pm on Friday October 31, 2014. Incomplete submissions will not be accepted. A complete submission includes:

- Online entry form
- Digital images submitted according to guidelines above

Submissions will be reviewed by a panel of judges. Notices of acceptance or rejection of submissions for finalist selection will be sent out by November 8.

All accepted finalist entries must then be received on a CD-ROM, sized to 8x10, in jpeg or tif format, with a 300 dpi resolution by November 11. Entries must be no larger than 8” x 10” in landscape or portrait format.

The show will be open from November 17-19th at the UNO’s University Center Lobby.

Prizes will be contributed from various organizations and businesses around the city. Prize categories will include 1st, 2nd, and 3rd place prizes.

Winners will be published on the Division of International Education website and in the "Driftwood."

NOTE: Employees of the UNO Division of International Education or any of the contest sponsors may not enter the contest.

International Education Week:
International Education Week first began in 2000. In its 15th year, IEW has become a global event. During the week, students, educators, and community leaders and our Embassies participate in a wide range of activities to recognize and celebrate the benefits of internationalism in our classrooms and our educational systems. For more information on IEW, including a worldwide list of events, please visit www.iew.state.gov.
